A TRADE PARTNER, NOT JUST A SUPPLIER

Nearly five decades of upholstery, trusted with the seating your business depends on.

"We tell you what's worth doing, what it costs, and what to expect — before a stitch is cut."

Founded in 1978 as J.P. Hirst Upholstery, Valley Upholstery has grown into a Guild of Master Craftsmen accredited workshop on Grosvenor Street, Stalybridge — serving homeowners, hospitality groups, specifiers and facilities teams from a single site.

Every commercial job passes through our own workshop. Nothing is subcontracted out of sight, and every quote is itemised before you commit.

We work to BS 5852 Crib 5 and Crib 7 fire-safety standards as standard, supply documentation with every commercial job, and accept purchase-order terms with trade references on request.

And because the work is scheduled around your trading hours, term dates or closure windows, your venue stays open while your seating simply gets better.

Our Stalybridge workshop and showroom, 40-42 Grosvenor Street — trading since 1978.

HOSPITALITY • THE PEVERIL OF THE PEAK

Recovering a Manchester institution, inside and out.

Grade II listed, and last recovered the best part of fifty years ago, The Peveril of the Peak on Great Bridgewater Street is one of Manchester's most recognised pubs — CAMRA rates its interior of "outstanding national historic importance." We measured, refoamed and recovered every fixed bench and settle in situ, matching the original profile so the room reads exactly as it always has to regulars, just properly finished underneath. The kind of heritage brief that needs patience as much as skill.

HOSPITALITY • THE TOWNHOUSE HOTEL

70 chairs, six styles, zero disruption

A full brasserie refit for a landmark Manchester hotel: 70 chairs across six seat styles plus a 70ft curved booth run, in fabric certified to BS 7176 Crib 5. Samples were recovered first so the client could approve the finish before committing to the full order — delivered in staged batches with the brasserie open throughout.

EDUCATION • TAMESIDE COLLEGE

Boeing 747 cabin crew training seats

A full set of Boeing 747 cabin crew training seats recovered for Tameside College, finished with embroidered college antimacassars — proof that public-sector, aviation and film-set briefs get the same practical workshop answer as a three-piece suite.

RETAIL • TESCO

Staff room booth seating, recovered on site

Approached directly by Tesco to recover the channel-tufted booth seating in a busy staff restaurant, in durable Crib 5 contract vinyl matched to the original profile. The room is in constant use across shift changes, so booths were measured, refoamed and recovered in scheduled stages — zero disruption, first-class result.

HOSPITALITY • GUEST ROOM PROGRAMMES

Headboards, chairs and settees — recovered by the room, not the piece.

A hotel refurbishment is rarely one item — it's every room: a headboard, a bedroom chair, often a small settee, multiplied across dozens of identical rooms. We run it as a single programme — one sample room signed off first, then the whole floor follows to the same spec, in fabric certified to BS 7176 Crib 5. Headboards are made in-house in any profile, with one itemised quote covering the full room count.
